FAMILIES FROM THE VILLAGE WETHERAL.

County Cumberland, England.

Wetherell.	Witherell.	Weatherell.
Wetherall.	Witherall.	Weatherall.
Wetherill.	Witherill.	Weatherill.

THIS COMPILATION is far from complete; and I offer no apologies for the poor arrangement. It is intended to be a record and not a literary gem.

Even though I may seem to place my own family foremost, I am interested in all the branches. I hope you will notify me of any errors you may find; make suggestions; and send me additional information at any time.

I hope to issue supplements from time to time, whenever the additional information warrants doing this.

The lists of miscellaneous names are taken from telephone and other directories. Please check these with any you may have at hand, and if you find any names not already listed, or any errors, send the information to me. You will find these lists on the various pages of part II.

And do the same with Church Registers, if you are where such records are kept.

Many lists are now incomplete because I could get no reply to my inquiries.

Our interest in the " WETHERAL CLAN" can be greatly advanced if every one will study all the lists, compare them with your own and if you find names possibly related, even though spelled differently, send the information to me. I may be able to help you further.

Thanking you for your co-operation and comments, and hoping to hear from you, I remain

Yours very sincerely,

* * * * SURNAMES * * * *

Camden says that about 1000 A.D. surnames began to be used in France. In England, about the time of the Conquest, they began to use surnames. They started by using nick-names, or discriptive names. These were at the time personal and did not descend to the sons. Later the Normans brought to England the names of their estates and castles in Normandy or Brittany; or some personal name which may or may not be transmitted to posterity. There is hardly a village in Normandy that has not given a surname to some family in England.

About the year 1066 it became the fashion to have surnames. These generally would be taken from the place of living, name of the farm, village etc. It is possible that several families, not blood relatives, might call themselves; "John de Wetheral", "William de Wetheral", Charles de Wetheral" etc. Later they would drop the "de" and without any special reason for keeping the original spelling of the name, the families would become " John Wetherell", "William Wetherall", "Charles Witherell" etc.

Then too in tracing a family line through thirty male generations, it would be necessary to examine some two billion names, fathers and mothers. (See Ancestral Arithmetic) It is hardly to be expected that any record would be complete enough to fathom ones genealogy for many years back.

And when we consider that Northern England, which seems to be the center for the Wetherell name, went through several centuries of changes in the nationalities which occupied the region, it is little wonder that there are so many ways of spelling the name. There were the Britons, Romans, Saxons, Angles, Danes, Scots, Normans and others.

In Northumbria and East Anglia, the Danes began to settle, from the 7th and 8th centuries. They came from the islands of Zealand, a province of Netherland. They were of the same stock as the Angles, who came from the region now modern Schleswig. The region North of "Watling Street" was given over to the Danes in 878. In Yorkshire, the names are largely Scandenavian, ending in "by", "thorp" "kirk" etc. After the Conquest, the Anglo-saxon names disappeared, and the records of the 12th and 13th centuries are nearly all Norman.

We should also keep in mind the custom in England, regarding farm ownership. Large tracts of land will be owned by the "Lord of the Manor" and he will lease for long terms, generally for 99 years, the various tracts or individual farms with the dwellings to the various farmers for cultivation, receiving a rental for this.

The study of the origin of surnames is most interesting, yet very complicated. I have gleaned a little about this from the books on genealogy and biography in the Public Library and elsewhere.

There are four general classes of surnames;

I. The largest list shows names taken from the place of origin.
II. Derived from father or ancestor; as Wilson, Petersong Johnson, etc
III. Derived from Occupation; Smith, Carpenter, Cook, Mason, Farmer, etc
IV. Includes nick-names, names of birds, fishes, beasts, etc. as well as names of personal defects, attributes, etc. Crookback, Redhead, Crow, Hawk, Barefoot, trout, etc.

* * * * REGARDING THE ORIGIN OF THE SUR-NAME WETHERELL * * * *

A "Dictionary of Family Names" in the Library at Carlisle says, "Wetherell, Wetherall, Wetherill; almost all the families of this name trace to the County of Durham, and there is little doubt of their derivation from Wetherel, County Cumberland, remarkable for its Priory".

Herbert J. Wetherill, of Philadelphia has sent me the following: "The earliest form that we have found is 'Witherhold'. Brand's History of Newcastle-on-Tyne, Vol. 2 page 384, states : John 'Witherhold' was bailiff of Newcastle in 1259 and continued in office for two years. This early spelling of the name indicates its derivation; it is the name of the place where the family first settled and was a "Keep" or "Stronghold" to which the cattle, weathers, etc. were driven for safety during the time of the Scotch invasion (1173). 'Witherhold', later Wetheral, was and still is, near Carlisle, County Cumberland, near the Scotch border. Shortly after the Norman Conquest a Prior of Benedictine Monks settled and built there. The ruins of the Monastery are still to be seen. I have an old engraving of this dated 1780, and it was labeled "Wetherell".

Robert Wetherell has sent me the following:
ORIGIN: From Delquist's THESE NAMES OF OURS we learn that the signification of the name Witherell or Wetherell would be "courageous Little Man" derived from the Welsh Cornish element ""ith" or ""yth" meaning coregeous. The termination "er" meaning man, plus the Norman-French "ell" meaning little.

According to Lower's PATRONYMICA BRITANICA the family of "WITHERELL or WITHERALL trace their name to the County of Durham, England. And there is little doubt of their derivation from "etheral, County Cumberland, remarkable for its Priory. Variants of the name are "eatherell, Wetherell, Wetherall and Wetherill.

Thomas Wetherill was born in Sherburn, County York, England, on Sept. 3, 1674. He emigrated to America with his father and settled in Burlington, N.J. in 1683. Mr. Thomas Wetherell married Miss Ann Fearon on April 22, 1703.

William Wetherell, Schoolmaster and Preacher of Massachusetts, was born in Maidstone, County Kent, England, in 1600. He emigrated to New England in the year 1635 and resided at Charleston, Massachusetts where he was minister of the Second Church. Rev. Wetherell's death occured in 1684.

John Wetherell was born in 1594 and died 1672. He was a Freeman of Watertown, Massachusetts in 1642,

Charles Meyer Wetherill, Chemist, was born in Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 4-1825, and died March 5-1871. He was the son of Charles and Margaret Wetherill. In 1851 Charles Meyer Wetherill was elected to the American Philosophical Society and in 1853 was awarded the Honorary Degree of M.D. by the N.Y. Medical College.

In a history of the Norman conquest which I read several years ago, I found this statement: "William (The Conqueror) returned to England, taking with him several of his knights, among whom were _____ (several names) and SIR GEORGE WETHERELL". This might indicate a Norman origin of the name and family.

Yorkshire preserves many Scandanavian names for her villages. But in other parts of England the Anglo-Saxon and Danish names have been replaced by the Norman.

WETHERAL PRIORY is a Parish in Cumberland near Carlisle. Many Wetheralls have come from that region. (The Priory is now in ruins).

In County Durham there is a "High Wetherhill and a Low Wetherhill". And perhaps without any special significance, very near these "Hills" is the village, TOFT HILL. My great grandfather, Thomas Wetherell, No. A 1. moved to Toft Hill Farm about 1832. Four generations of his descendants lived there until 1889.

WETHERBY is a town in West Yorkshire and means Wed (With) Wide Village. And probably from Wether, a ram or sheep. WITHERSPOON is taken to mean a rams pasture.

And some of the Wetherells have told me that the name came from Witherhold, meaning a sheep pen. It would be interesting speculation to try and figure out the reasons. The various authorities have given several origins.

The spelling of the name has been slightly changed through ignorance, indifference or illiteracy.

I have found the following names which are similar, and might be considered as the same family. Some have used only one "l" at the end of the name. There may be others.

Weth-		With-	Weath-
Wetherell	Wethered	Witherill	Weatherell
Wetherill	Wetherton	Witherall	Weatherald
Wetherall	Wethersby	Witherhold	Weatherill

Wetherset	Wethershed		Weathershed

Also Wederhale
Wederhall and others

It is only during the last century or so, that education of the masses has been very general. In former times the majority could not read or write. Undoubtedly many did not know when they were born, or their age.

Throughout my account of the Family, when I have occasion to speak of the name in a general way, I have spelled it "WETHERELL" as a matter of convenience.

* * * * WETHERAL VILLAGE * * * *

I have recently received a copy of Loftie' "History of the Parishes of Wetheral & Warwick" published by Brown & Brown, 75 Scotch Street, Carlisle, Cumberland, England. I could find no account of how the village got the name, but here are a few briefed extracts:

"The name Wetheral has been found in many different spellings in ancient documents in the foundation charter, granted by Ranulph Menschin, to the Priory of Wetheral. It is written "Wetherhala". That is about or soon after 1093 A.D. It is also found as "Wederhale" or "Wederhall", which seems to account for the common pronunciation, not so very long since, by some of the inhabitants as "Wedderal".

The following are a few Place Names, or names of villages etc.: Wetheral; Wetheral Pasture; Wetheral Mill; Wetheral Gate; Wetheral Shield; Wetheral Green; etc. Great Corby is the location of the residence of the Lord of the Manor, Philip Canning Howard. The Castle has been occupied by the Howard family for over three centuries.

The oldest fact connected with the Parish of Wetheral is the fact that the Romans were once in possession of the Quarries that lie along the Eden River at the West side.

The remains of the work of the XX Legion of Roman soldiers takes us back at the very least, to the year A.D. 400, as they left Briton about that time. The remains might date even a long time before that.

The next oldest remains to be found at Wetheral are the Caves. These are rock-hewn cells which must have existed in the days of the Monks. And probably long before. Each is roughly 20 feet long by ten feet wide and nine feet high. These were probably used as a place of safety and concealment. From the Patron Saint of the Church they got the name of Constantine's Cells. Otherwise Wetheral Safeguard.

"St. Constantine was a King of the Britons who became a missionary to Scotland. He lived, it is said, about the end of the sixth century. Many churches in Scotland were dedicated to this saint as well as Wetheral Church."

I visited the church and the caves while I was at Wetheral.

I have a letter from Rev. C. M. Lowther Bouch, of Clifton Rectory, Penrigh, County Cumberland. By the way, he will publish a book this autumn entitled "Prelates and People of the Lake Counties". His letter states: "The name Wetheral is probably old Norse, Wether, meaning Ram; and old English Hath meaning low lying ground by a river.

"The local family obviously takes its name from the place. I think they are much more likely to be of Norse, rather than Norman origin. The Conqueror never reached here. This land only finally became part of England in the middle of the 12th century. Very few of our local families are of Norman descent.

WETHERAL VILLAGE

I have recently received a copy of Loftie' "History of the Parishes of Wetheral & Warwick" published by Brown & Brown, 75 Scotch Street, Carlisle, Cumberland, England. I could find no account of how the village got the name, but here are a few briefed extracts:

"The name Wetheral has been found in many different spellings in ancient documents in the foundation charter, granted by Ranulph Menschin, to the Priory of Wetheral. It is written "Wetherhala". That is about or soon after 1093 A.D. It is also found as

"Wederhale" or "Wederhall", which seems to account for the common pronunciation, not so very long since, by some of the inhabitants as "Wedderal".

The following are a few Place Names, or names of villages etc.: Wetheral; Wetheral Pasture; Wetheral Mill; Wetheral Gate; Wetheral Shield; Wetheral Green; etc. Great Corby is the location of the residence of the Lord of the Manor, Philip Canning Howard. The Castle has been occupied by the Howard family for over three centuries.

The oldest fact connected with the Parish of Wetheral is the fact that the Romans were once in possession of the Quarries that lie along the Eden River at the West side.

The remains of the work of the XX Legion of Roman soldiers takes us back at the very least, to the year A.D. 400, as they left Briton about that time. The remains might date even a long time before that.

The next oldest remains to be found at Wetheral are the Caves. These are rock-hewn cells which must have existed in the days of the Monks. And probably long before. Each is roughly 20 feet long by ten feet wide and nine feet high. These were probably used as a place of safety and concealment. From the Patron Saint of the Church they got the name of Constantine's Cells. Otherwise Wetheral Safeguard.

"St. Constantine was a King of the Britons who became a missionary to Scotland. He lived, it is said, about the end of the sixth century. Many churches in Scotland were dedicated to this saint as well as Wetheral Church."

"The following is a brief list of the very early people of the name:

"William de Wetheral; 1200-40
"Wulfrid de Wetheral; "
Humphrey de Wetheral, "

"John, son of William (above) 1240-7. Married Eda, daughter of Robert, son of Alexander, and was living 1245-6.

"Stephen de Wetheral, about 1250.
The lady Dionysia de Wetheral, 1257.

"Adam, son of Roger de Wetheral, 1303-30.

"John de Wetheral } (These both owned land at Caldcotes (This Richard de Wetheral } is by Carr's Biscuit Factory at Carlisle)

"Robert de Wetheral, who owned land at Penrith in 1333-4.

"Of later people of the name:
Agnes, daughter of John Wetheral of Lazonby, married Rowlerd Hodgson of Bascodyke, Ainstable, in about 1620.

"Anthony Wetherall, was vicar of Kirby Stephen in 1607, and was living in 1620.

"There was a James Wetherell, perhaps his son, living there in 1646, which shows that the family was then of some social standing.

"The above are all from books I have by me. I am sure a wider search would produce much more."

Rev. Bouch was at one time Vicar of the Church at Wetheral. I had a very pleasant visit with him at Penrith.

From Loftie's "A History of the Parishes of Wetheral & Warwick":

"The Parish in 1848 contained six villages and a population of 3,167. It spread over an area of 13,000 acres - 9 miles long by 5 wide. It is about 4 miles from Carlisle, County Cumberland.

"There are Wetheral Church; Wetheral Parish; Wetheral Abbey; Wetheral Priory; and Wetheral Cross.

"The Parish is on the Scottish border and at the time when the border was so undefined, it was often disputed by the Kings of England and Scotland. It was open to constant raids of bands of marauders from Scotland until 1603.

"William Rufus wrested it from the Scots when he rebuilt Carlisle and settled aroundit colonies of "Curlish folk, with their wives and cattle that they might settle there and till the land". (From SAXON CHRONICLE)

From "Old Memorial Halls"; in Lanercost Priory and the Cell of Wetheral, we have the remains of the earliest conventional buildings in the North.

"The picturesque ruin of the entrance gateway and porter's lodge are all that remain of the Priory of Wetheral. The Priory was founded about the year 1106. The site was given to St. Mary's at York, by Runolph Menchin, nephew of Hugh, Earl of Chester, who had been granted the whole of the district known as the "honor of Carlisle", by King William Rufus. He, in his turn, had seized it from the King of Scots on some pretext or other, of a former connection with the King of England. Some time after this fight, a colony of a Prior and twelve monks of the Benedictine order were sent down from York to set up a monastery. The Benedictines were often employed by sovereigns and nobles to build churches.

"Ranulph Menchin had been created Lord of Cambrie, or rather of the Land of Carlisle, by William the Red King about the year 1093, and his founding of the religious House of Wetheral must have been about that time or soon after."

I spent three or four very pleasant days in Wetheral Village. I was there June 26 and again July 25-1947. The Crown Hotel, only a few steps from the R.R. Station, was the best kept and had the best food and service of any of the hotels where I stayed while in England.

The Village is about four miles West of Carlisle, County Cumberland, and on the banks of the Eden River. A few houses are along the river bank, but the main part is up on the bluff surrounding the village greenand along a few streets which extend from this.

While undoubtedly our sur-name came from this village, I found no one of the name there at this time. I observed an old carving in raised letters over an unused door to the church which, from its appearance, must have been very old; "Orate p. Anime Richardi Wedderhall". He was no doubt one of the Priors who helped rebuild the church before 1530 or 1535.

Some questions: Did William the Conqueror bring Sir George Wetherell to England from Normandy? Or was he from some other country?

How did the Village Wetheral receive its name? Was it established by and named for the family of Wetheral? Or did it get its name direct from Weatherhold - a sheep pen? Or from Wetherell Stronghold, the caves near by?

If the name originated in Normandy or Brittany or elsewhere, what would be its real meaning in those languages?

And of course we must make allowances for the changes in languages through time; also the pronunciation of various words in different localities. There are many dialects in England today, and even now it is difficult for an American to understand it in some regions or Counties.

In Scott's "Ivanhoe" is an account of Steven Wetherall being slain by Richard Coeur-de-Lion in a family strife between Richard and his younger brother John. This occured about the end of the 12th century.

" William Thornton and Richard Wedderhall were Priors before 1530 or 1535".

There are other villages in England having names similar to Wetheral. Fetherby is one in Yorkshire, located a few miles West of the city of York. Many bearing a similar surname are to be found listed in the various church registers and directories.

* * * * BENEDICTINES * * * *

AT MONTE CASSINO

The first monestery under the name was founded at Monte Cassius, in the Appenines, midway between Rome and Naples, Italy, by St. Benedict about 529. He was born A.D. 480.

The order increased rapidly after the sixth century. The Benedictines were the main agency in the spread of Christianity, civilization and learning in the West. They promoted systematic agriculture, gardening for growing herbs for medicines. Also workshops for weaving and dying cloth, curing and tanning hides, tailoring, shoe making, embroidering, preparation of vellum for writing and illuminating, binding, glass blowing, carpentry and joinery, masonry in brick and stone, bronze casting, work in gold and silver and ivory, wood and gem carving, inlaying, sculpture, and fresco painting.

Villages and towns were built up around the monasteries. When a sovereign or noble wished to build a church or any other building, he requested it of one of their monasteries.

They did not make much progress in architecture except at the close of the 11th and 12th centuries. They adhered to the old basilica style, very plain in detail and without sculpture.

In remote times there were many instances where nations and individuals distinguished themselves by particular emblems or ensigns. And the Normans used such at the Conquest of England.

But Heraldry proper came into general use during the Crusades. This may have been influenced by the Saracen custom of wearing richly embroidered devices.

SARACEN

The coat-of-arms were under strict regulations by those in power. They were granted for special bravery and services, generally during wars. Daniel Bradford Wetherell has sent me a sketch of one said to belong to the Wetherell family. The one on the cover is a copy of this sketch.

The Wetherill or Wetherell Family Coat-of-Arms, as mentioned in Burke's GENERAL ARMORY is described as follows:

"ARMORIAL COAT: Argent two lions passant guardent sable on a chief dancette of the second, three cups argent."

"EXPLANATION AND DESCRIPTION OF THE SYMBOLS AND COLORING OF THE ARMORIAL COAT. Argent white or silver, signifies peace and sincerity. Sable or black denotes constancy and sometimes but most rarely, grief. The lion has always held a high place in heraldry as the emblem of deathless courage. Guillin, speaking of the lion, says "It is a lively image of a good soldier who must be valient of courage, strong of body, politic in council and a foe to fear. It is the emblem of St. Mark. In Venice it is borne with wings.

The chief which occupies the whole of the top and one third of the totsl surfsce of the shield of arms, signifies domination and authority and it has often been granted for prudence and wisdom as well as for successful command in war."

We find no crest or motto belonging to the coat-of-arms.

Herbert J. Wetherill writes that "the coat of arms is exactly the same as ours, and I have been told that Christopher Wetherill, although he was a Quaker, had these arms engraved on some of his possessions when he came to this country in 1683."

And [illegible] Wetherell, of St. Leonards-on-sea writes that "Certainly the lion with the cup is in use on old silver which we have; and also on a seal I use. The visor with the plumes I am not so sure of. I suggest that you submit it to the Heraldry Authority when you get to this country."

I found the following in an encyclopedia of Heraldry:
Wetherall - two lions, pass. Sa on a chief indented to the last, three covered cups, or crest. A demi lion ramp, as holding a covered cup, or:

Wetherell, (as borne by Sir Charles Wetherell, knt. Attorney General in 1826 - son of the very reverend Nathan Wetherell, D.D. Dean of Hereford) Ar. two lions pass. guard sa. on a chief dansette of the second, three covered cups, or:

It is the custom in England for owners to name their farms and houses. Much of our family history centers in and around Toft Hill Farm; this includes some of the Parkinsons and Greys as well as many Wetherells.

I visited the old place with the Irelands on Saturday, May 17-1947. It certainly was thrilling to think that here was where my great grand parents had lived and farmed, and raised their large family.

TOFT HILL FARM

It is the custom in England for owners to name their farms and houses. Much of our family history centers in and around Toft Hill Farm; this includes some of the Parkinsons and Greys as well as many Wetherells.

I visited the old place with the Irelands on Saturday, May 17-1947. It certainly was thrilling to think that here was where my great grand parents had lived and farmed, and raised their large family.

The place was at that time, owned by some of the Chaytors of Witton-le-Wear. Now it belongs to Mr. Wilkinson and is being farmed for his by Mr. and Mrs B.Greggs. It consists of 107 acres, 79 of which are under cultivation; the balance is pasture. The original house, built 200 or 300 yars ago, was gone, except a few fragments of the old foundation. Most of the original barns and out buildings are still there and in use. New ones have been added. The picture was taken before these were added, perhaps about 1880. We were told that the present house was built about 1844. All the buildings are built of native stone. I went through the house. Inside, the ceilings were low with hand hewed beams; everything showed age and much of the structure evidently came from the original house.

Toft Hill Farm is located about a mile from the village of Toft Hill and is just beyond Toft Hill Hall. From the farm there is a most beautiful view of Rural England. Mrs. Creggs told me that on a clear day one could see the towers of the Cathedral at Durham, seventeen miles XXXXX East.

Thomas Wetherell, No A 1. and his family lived at Low Wham and moved to Toft Hill Farm. His wife, Ann, had inherited the stock and equipment from her uncle, Robert Gray who had lived on the farm, and had died in 1832. At the death of Thomas it descended to William Wetherell, the youngest son. And two more generations were to occupy the farm where so many of the family were born and raised.

Mrs. Ireland showed me the following original wills; That of John Grey dated April 23-1780, bequeathing Toft Hill Farm to his father George Grey. Of George Grey, dated Nov. 23-1788 bequeathing the farm to his son Robert Grey. And of Robert Grey bequeathing it to his niece, Ann, wife of Thomas Wetherell.
Then Thomas Wetherell willed the place to his youngest son, William. This will is dated Dec. 31-1839. Then William to his son, William Grey Wetherell who was the last of the family to reside on the farm.

Mrs.Ireland has quite a collection of old and most interesting family documents. I have copies of some old letters which my grandfather and his brothers wrote to their folks back home after they had come to America and will be glad to send copies to you if you will let me know. They are dated 1829-1864 and were included in the 1946 issue of the family history.

The church records at StHelens show that William Wetherell, No.A1.9 was born at Toft Hill in 1813.(Was this on the farm or in the village) He was the son of Thos. Wetherell, "laborer" by his wife Ann Parkinson.
William Grey Wetherell, No A1.9.1 son of William, No A1.9 was the last of the Wetherells to live on the farm. It seems that Sir Henry Chaytor had asked him to testify in court that a neighbor was guilty of opening a drain which flooded one of his coal mines. This, William refused to do: so Chaytor informed him that he would force him to move off. He did this by undermining the old house causing it to fall apart and become uninhabitable. William and his family moved to Newbiggen Farm, near by, in 1889.

The old house was badly wrecked by the mining operations and was torn down about 1889.

Two farms near Toft Hill Farm are named "High Wetherhill" and "Low Wetherhill". The names may have some significance.

Mrs. Ireland accompanied me to Toft Hill Farm and could tell me many interesting things about the old place. She was born in the present house.

August 20-1947, I went by bus from Darlington to Evenwood, which is not very far from Toft Hill. From the village of Evenwood I walked to Low Gordon Farm, then across the fields to High Gordon Farm and returning I passed by Little Gordon Farm. I did not find any "Gordon Farm" but there is a Gordon House in the same neighborhood. Little Gordon may be the same as the Gordon mentioned in the registers at St. Helens.

Gordon, Low Gordon and High Gordon are all mentioned in these registers as the birthplaces of the children of Thomas and Ann Wetherell, so I am led to believe they must have lived on these farms at various times.

The old houses are still standing and occupied by tenants. I believe all the farms are or were a part of the Chaytor Estate, the owner living at Witton-le-Wear, also not far away. I have not been able to locate "Low Wham". It probably is the name of a farm in the same general region.

Some things I would like to know:
Did Thomas work on Toft Hill Farm as a laborer for Robert Grey?
After marrying Ann Parkinson it would seem that they moved out, living at Gordon, Low Gordon and High Gordon. Then when Robert Grey died, he was living at Low Wham and as Ann inherited the stock and equipment of Toft Hill Farm from her uncle, Robert, they moved to the farm and four generations occupied it until 1889. Their large family was raised there.
Why was Ann at Sunderland Bridge whon my grandfather was born in 1811?

* * * * ENGLISH PARISH REGISTERS * * * *

They began recording births in English Parish Registers about 1538 A.D.

It would seem that mahy Wetherells, especially the members of my branch, lived for many years in County Durham, more particularly in the region around West Auckland. And many of these were farmers.

During a recent visit to England (1947) I searched the registers of several of the Parishes; also in the Public Library at Newcastle-on-Tyne, where I found the transcription of five volumns of registers very nicely indexed, and this made it so easy to find the names.

The name was spelled variously even in the same record. The general use of the same given name is noticeable also. Some of their habits of writing were different from those in use today. It seemed to be the style to make the final "l" in Wetherell, to look like a "t". Then in some of the records I found the final "m" in William, for instance, was omitted, and a wave put above the "ia". The same thing occurred in such names as Harrison when they would omit the final "n" and put the wave above the "so". I have spelled the names as I found them in the registers.

As several of the Greys and Parkinsons are inter-related with the Wetherells, I shall include a partial list of these.

Mr. Neville Wetherell has visited many churches and gone over their records and has been of great assistance to me. Thanks.

Mrs. Ireland accompanied me to Toft Hill Farm and could tell me many interesting things about the old place. She was born in the present house.
August 20-1947, I went by bus from Darlington to Evenwood, which is not very far from Toft Hill. From the village of Evenwood I walked to Low Gordon Farm, then across the fields to High Gordon Farm and returning I passed by Little Gordon Farm. I did not find any "Gordon Farm" but there is a Gordon House in the same neighborhood. Little Gordon may be the same as the Gordon mentioned in the registers at St. Helens.

Gordon, Low Gordon and High Gordon are all mentioned in these registers as the birthplaces of the children of Thomas and Ann Wetherell, so I am led to believe they must have lived on these farms at various times.
The old houses are still standing and occupied by tenants. I believe all the farms are or were a part of the Chaytor Estate, the owner living at Witton-le-Wear, also not far away. I have not been able to locate "Low Wham". It probably is the name of a farm in the same general region.
Some things I would like to know:
Did Thomas work on Toft Hill Farm as a laborer for Robert Grey? After marrying Ann Parkinson it would seem that they moved out, living at Gordon, Low Gordon and High Gordon. Then when Robert Grey died, he was living at Low Wham and as Ann inherited the stock and equipment of Toft Hill Farm from her uncle, Robert, they moved to the farm and four generations occupied it until 1889. Please look these lists over carefully and compare them with your own family list and let me know if you can trace any connection between any of the names. And I would suggest that whenever you have the opportunity to do so, that you examine the public records for the name; especially the church records in England.

St. Helens Auckland; this joins the village of West Auckland; and as Toft Hill and Toft Hill Farm are in the same parish, would account for so many of my family being in those registers. The villages are a few miles North West of Darlington.

As the registers at the Newcastle Public Library are transcriptions from the records at St. Helens, I shall include both in the same list. Here are some of the notations I found in the Newcastle volumns:

"Bequeathed to the Newcastle-upon-Tyne Public Reference Library by Herbert Maxwell Wood, B.A. F.S.A. Hon. Secy. of Durham and Northern Parish Register Society." (These were volumns III, IV, V, VIII and IX)

In Volumn IV, 1704-1704-1773 is the following:

"The notes in red ink have been taken from a rough note book, from which (it would appear that) the register was written up at a later period. This rough book is now very incomplete and torn, but so far as it goes, this register has been compared with it and the differences noted in red ink and where the entries agreed, ticked." (It will be impossible to show this red ink notations in my list).

A letter is included:

"The Vicarage St. Helens Auckland, Bishop Auckland, Feb. 12-1894.

Dear Sir; Many thinks for your kindness in forwarding extracts from your meeting on Dec. 20/93 re parish registers. The question is receiving some attention in the Guardian & I have had some correspondence with the Rev. J. Howell, vicar of (?) Tykeby Sveenhm, Middlesbro in reference to the register which has been printed. It will be an expansive work (etc.). The registers of St. Helens date from 1593, but the church itself is much older. I would think the registers have been taken away. When I have the opportunity, I hope to go through them and make an index of the contents of each volumn. (etc.)."

OLD LETTERS.

Mrs Ireland has several old letters dated 1829 to 1867 which my grandfather and his brothers wrote to their father and other members of their families in England, after they had come to America.
These letters have much of general interest and I shall be glad to send copies if you do not already have them. They were included in the 1946 addenda.
And if you should have any old family letters which would interest other Wetherells, please send copies to me.

BINDING.

If you should care to do so, I would suggest that you get a "ring binder" of the proper size. Remove the staples from your copy of this family history, and have holes punched to fit the binder. Get some blank sheets of paper and put one or more between the printed sheets. These can be used for additional notes and information which you may obtain from time to time. Then the supplemental sheets can be bound with the original as they are sent to you.

seem that his middle name comes from one of the maternal ancestors, Ann Wetherell who died in 1837. She married Thomas Smith who was born in 1766 and died in 1825. The name Wetherell was given as a middle name through four generations.

A picture in a Pittsburgh, Pa. paper shows Miss Effie Wetherell. She is a teacher of Health and Physical Science as well as Handicraft in the Public Schools at Rochester, N.Y. I have received a letter from her and her genealogy will appear hereafter. (see O 7)

Two clippings were sent by Neville Wetherell from English papers. One is an advertisement of H.W. Wetherell, re-opening his printing business in Spennymoor, Co. Durham.

Another is dated March 17-1918, and gives an account of the funeral of Rosamond Ann, Relict of the late John Wetherell, Auctioneer of Richmond, Yorks. (She was Neville's grandmother).

John Wetherell (81.1) son of Wm Wetherell, born Jan 31-1822, Holme House, Piercebridge. Died 64 years of age. Early days was a surveyor of railroads. Auctioneer in Richmond in 1848. Married Jan 20-1857 Miss Rosa Robertson of Kelso. Issue 4 daughters and 3 sons. Eldest son died in infancy. Oldest surviving son succeeded the business. Was Secretary Richmondshire Agricultural Society. Secy. Richmond Race Committee. Oldest member but one of Lennox Lodge of Freemasons. Joined the Lodge Nov 7-1849. Became worshipful master in 1861. Honorary Secretary Richmond Subscription Billiard Club. Buried in St. Mary's Churchyard, Richmond.

In the pass list of the Auctioneers & Estate Agts. Inst. it is announced that in the section (2nd class Honours) of the professional Examination, John N. L. Wetherell has passed. He is with James Turnbull & son, Chester-le-Street. (This is the Neville Wetherell mentioned before.)
From "Cappers' Farmer" August 1946, a clipping gives pictures and an interesting account of the work of Rev. Gene Wetherell (No. Al-8.833). In co-operation with the Agricultural leaders and Extension department of the University of Missouri, they are trying to re-vitalize the neglected Rural Churches. And so far as is known he is a real pioneer in this work and the only extension minister for the Rural Church in the United States. Articles have appeared also in "Country Gentleman" and "Reader's Digest."

Arthur Wetherell gave me a clipping about his son Eric. I have briefed it somewhat:
"School boys get their chance as church organists.
"Because so many musicians have joined the Army and gone into war work, boy organists are coming into their own in our churches.
"Eric Wetherell has been similarly appointed to the parish church of Wetheral, Carlisle.
"A versatile 16 year old grammer school boy, Eric is both musician and actor. He haswon music festival prizes as a pianist, plays a French horn in an orchestra, and this week has given four performances in a school production of "Macbeth".

From the Darlington Stockton Times (about June 20-1947) George Keneth Wetherill was fined 20 Ls for stealing a radio.

From Kalamazoo, Mich. tells of the death of Oscar F. Wetherell, age 68. He had retired in January 1945 after serving 40 years on the [redacted] POLICE FORCE seem that his middle name comes from one of the maternal ancestors, Ann Wetherell who died in 1837. She married Thomas Smith who was born in 1766 and died in 1825. The name Wetherell was given as a middle name through four generations.

A picture in a Pittsburgh, Pa. paper shows Miss Effie Wetherell. She is a teacher of Health and Physical Science as well as Handicraft in the Public Schools at Rochester, N.Y. I have received a letter from her and her genealogy will appear hereafter. (see O 7)

Two clippings were sent by Neville Wetherell from English papers. One is an advertisement of H.W. Wetherell, re-opening his printing business in Spennymoor, Co. Durham.
Another is dated March 17-1918, and gives an account of the funeral of Rosamond Ann, Relict of the late John Wetherell, Auctioneer of Richmond, Yorkshire. (She was Neville's grandmother).

John Wetherill, 78, one of the west's most colorful characters and discoverer of the famous Cliff palace in Mesa Verde national park, Colo. died here today.

During the last 58 years he had operated a trading post at Kayenta, where notables of art, literature and statesmanship were frequent visitors. President Theodore Roosevelt and his son Quintin, were numbered among his prominent guests.

Zane Grey wrote his western Indian epic "The Vanishing American", while staying with Wetherill, and he is frequently mentioned in Grey's novels and those of Halold Bell Wright, another of his former intimates.

Wetherill was widely known as a guide and amteur geologist as well as an Indian trader. On one of his many journeys in the western hinterlands he found the scenic ruins at Mesa Verde Park. He also is credited with being one of the first pioneers to view picturesque Rainbow natural bridge, 175 miles North of Flagstaff, Ariz.

* * * * MY TRIP TO ENGLAND * * 1947 * * * *

It took me three weeks to get my American passport, and three months to get the required English visa. I had wanted to go over during the early fall of 1946, but the delay in securing these essential documents caused me to postpone my trip. In early 1947 I secured transportation for going over, and for my return trip via the beautiful boat, Queen Elizabeth, and I was to stay in England nearly six months.

I boarded the boat at New York City, March 22, and at about 6:00 P.M. we passed the statue of Liberty just asthe large, copper-red disk of the setting sun was in a direct line behind her. This, with the dusky outlines of the great buildings of the city in the opposite direction, made it a most impressive leaves-taking sight. Yes, I was on my way.

There had been some very heavy storms when the boat came West two or three days before, which caused her to be twenty four hours late. Going East there was some wind, a heavy swell and fairly high waves. The boat pitched and rolled at times, and many were sea-sick. Happily, I proved to be immune, and had the privelege of enjoying the crossing very much, especially the fine food they served. On board every day they had movies, news by radio, a good orchestra, dancing, horse racing, keno, bingo, etc. There was no lack of ways to spend the time. In fact, the time crossing was altogether too short. We were twelve hours late, but at that, I was really sorry that my trip was not two weeks later because the Queen Elizabeth was stuck in the mud in Southampton Harbor for sixty hours on her next voyage East.

Here is a list of the cities and villages I visited. Find them on your map: Barnard Castle, Bishop Auckland, Crowdale, Conniscliffe, Carlisle, Cockfield, Croft, Darlington, Durham, Evenwood, Fatfield, Gainford, Hamsterly, Heighington, Leeds, Middlesbrough, Middleton-one-row, Morecombe, Newcastle, Pity-me, Penrith, Piercebridge, Spennymoor, South Moor, Sunderland, Sedgefield, Steindrop, Stockton, Stanley, Sunderland Bridge, Shildon, Sanfor, Toft Hill, Washington, West Auckland, Wetheral, Wingate, Whitburn, Witton-le-wear, York; and on my homeward trip, I spent a few days in Bradford, London and in Southampton.

I visited several churches and was interested in looking over their registers. The Vicars were all very kind and helpful in searching for the Wetherells who might be mentioned. Some of their records were over four hundred years old, written in India ink on parchment. But I could not decipher the old English script. My first and foremost desire was to find the birth record of the earliest known ancestor of my branch, Thomas Wetherell who was born in 1759, and whether he had brothers and sisters. Knowing this would have enabled me to find if any of the other branches would be connected with mine. But I failed in this quite completely. Not knowing the name of the Parish where his parents lived, I was unable to get the information even at Somerset House in London. I do think it would have been helpful if the genealogical department of this institution and also the various parishes had indexed their records. They would have facilitated the search and made it much more certain. As the records now are, one must scan every line and every date. With the various handwritings this was a tedious process. However, I did find many, and these will be found elsewhere in this history.

Note how my great grandfather had signed his name; "THOMAS WEATHERILT". Then later, in giving the births of their children, the name was spelled variously. This shows that they were careless in those early days.

To close, I would like to say that I had a grand time. The English are most sociable and hospitable in every way, and we Americans could learn a lot from them, how to entertain and care for our guests.

* * * * NUMBERING SYSTEM * * * *

For numbering the various members of the families, I am using, where possible, the following system. I believe it will be self-explanatory:

A 1. Earliest known ancestor. (The "A" meaning an Iowa list. See below).
1.1 First child of number A 1.
1.11 First child of number 1.1. Grandchild of Number A 1.
1.12 Second child of number 1.1.
1.2 Second child of number 1.2.
1.21 First child of number 1.2.
1.211 Child of number 1.21.
1.2111 Child of number 1.211. And so on.
A 2. Brother or sister of number A 1.
2.1 Child of number A 2.
2.11 Child of number 2.1 and so on.

In a few families there are more than nine children listed. I have added a small letter to the number, thus:
1.9 Ninth child of number A 1.
1.1a Tenth child of number A 1.
1.2a Eleventh child.
1.2a1 First child of number 1.2a. etc.

In the lists of the various families I omit the letter designating the state, except for the earliest known ancestor. In a few instances I have added a "b" to a number. Generally it is infants who have died shortly after birth.

I am using capital letters to designate the state in which the Wetherell lives, who has sent me a list of his family. Thus:

A	Iowa	L	California
B	Missouri	M	Illinois
C	Massachusetts	N	Vermont, New Jersey.
D	Pennsylvania	O	Canada
E	New York	P	Montana or the Dakotas
F	Michigan	Q	Colorado, Arizona, Texas, N. Mex.
G	Washington	R	Indiana
H	Ohio	S	Kansas, Oklahoma.
I	Connecticut, Maryland.	T	Nebraska.
J	West Virginia, Virginia.	U	Carolinas, Southern States
K	Wisconsin	V	Misc. and Library lists.
		Z	England.

The various lists from each state will have the number 1, 2, 3, etc., added to the letter. Thus: if you are the second in Missouri to send me a list, it would be numbered B 2. And so on.

ABBREVIATIONS: B Born; D Died; M Married.

"No virtuously disposed mind can look back upon a long line of truly venerable ancestors without feeling his motive to a virtuous life strengthened. He can scarcely help feeling that it is not for him to be the first to bring disgrace upon his lineage. It will, moreover, lead him to reflect that his posterity also, will be looking back and comparing his life with that of his Progenitors." (Anon)

When you refer to any one of the following lists, be sure to give the state letter.

WETHERELL. 38. A 1- IOWA.

Compiled by Frank E.Wetherell, Des Moines, Iowa; Information was furnished by several members of the family.

A1- THOMAS WETHERELL; first known ancestor; B-May 14-1759, in County Durham, England. D-Jan 6-1844 Buried at StHelens-Auckland. M- Nov 24-1798, Ann Parkinson; B-May 30-1776. D-Oct 20-1855. She was the daughter of Joshua Parkinson and his wife Ann Gray Parkinson, who were married May 29-1775.

After Thomas' death, Ann moved to Sedgefield to live with her daughter Ann. She is buried there in StEdward's Church yard.

The register of Thomas' marriage to Ann spells his name "Weatherell; then as he signed it, his signature looks like "Weatherilt" And it looked as if the Vicar might have guided his hand in writing it. Ann signed with an "X" Her Mark".

In this register are several birth dates of their children; it would indicate that they lived on the various Gordon Farms after their marriage. Then upon the death of Robert Gre[illegible] Ann's uncle, according to his will, she inherited the farm and they moved to Toft Hill Farm. Four generations of the family lived on this farm from 1832 to 1889.

These Gordon Farms and Toft Hill Farm are all within a few miles of the village Evenwood, County Durham.

See Part I for the church registers and a brief discription of Toft Hill Farm.

I tried to find out about the parentage of Thomas, and if he had any brothers and sisters. But not knowing the Parish where he was born, I was not successful. However there were several entries in the StHelen's register which might be of his relatives. The register of the church at Evenwood were burned when the church burned in 1905 and it is possible that some of the data was in them.

There were two Thomas Weatherilts signed as witnesses to the marriage of George Gary and Mary Wetherell, in 1779, twenty one years before the marriage of Thomas and Ann. The difference in the spelling need not be confusing, because they were so careless about names in those early days.

Note; in the following lists I have omitted the sur-name "Wetherell" (variously spelled) in listing the descendants.

The descendants of Thomas and Ann Wetherell;

1. Thomas II; B-Nov 10-1799, at Gordon Farm. D-Apr 9-1878. Buried at Witton-le-Wear. M- _____Vart. No issue.
2. John; B-June 25-1801, at High Gordon. D- ? M- ? Came to America in 1829 and settled in Pittsburgh, Pa.
   2.1 Elizabeth; B-1835. D- ?
   2.2 Mary Ann; B-Dec 17-1836. D- ?
   2.3 Jane; B- ? D- ?
   2.4 Martha; B- ? D- ?
   2.5 Alice; B-1845. D- ?
   2.6 John II; B- ? D- ? M- ? He was lame and a doctor. No issue.
   2.7 Caroline; B-April 1950. D- ? M-_____Porter (?)

The data I have about John and his family is very meager; if any one can send me further information, I shall appreciate it.

WETHERELL. A 1- IOWA.

Compiled by Frank E. Wetherell, Des Moines, Iowa; Information was furnished by several members of the family.

A1- THOMAS WETHERELL; first known ancestor; B-May 14-1759, in County Durham, England. D-Jan 6-1844. Buried at St Helens-Auckland. M-Nov 24-1798, Ann Parkinson; B-May 30-1776. D-Oct 20-1855. She was the daughter of Joshua Parkinson and his wife Ann Gray Parkinson, who were married May 29-1775.

After Thomas' death, Ann moved to Sedgefield to live with her daughter Ann. She is buried there in St Edward's Church yard.

The register of Thomas' marriage to Ann spells his name "Weatherell; then as he signed it, his signature looks like "Weatherilt" And it looked as if the Vicar might have guided his hand in writing it. Ann signed with an "X" her Mark".

In this register are several birth dates of their children; it would indicate that they lived on the various Gordon Farms after their marriage. Then upon the death of Robert Grey, Ann's uncle, according to his will, she inherited the farm and they moved to Toft Hill Farm. Four generations of the family lived on this farm from 1832 to 1889.

These Gordon Farms and Toft Hill Farm are all within a few miles of the village Evanwood, County Durham.

See Part I for the church registers and a brief description of Toft Hill Farm.

I tried to find out about the parentage of Thomas, and if he had any brothers and sisters. But not knowing the Parish where he was born, I was not successful. However, there were several entries in the St Helen's register which might be of his relatives. The register of the church at Evanwood was burned when the church burned in 1905 and it is possible that some of the data was in them.

There were two Thomas Weatherilts signed as witnesses to the marriage of George Gary and Mary Wetherell, in 1779, twenty-one years before the marriage of Thomas and Ann. The difference in the spelling need not be confusing, because they were so careless about names in those early days.

Note; in the following lists I have omitted the sur-name "Wetherell" (variously spelled) in listing the descendants.

The descendants of Thomas and Ann Wetherell:

1. Thomas II; B-Nov 10-1799, at Gordon Farm. D-Apr 9-1878. Buried at Witton-le-Wear. M- Vart. No issue.

2. John; B-June 25-1801, at High Gordon. D- ? M- ? Came to America in 1829 and settled in Pittsburgh, Pa.

2.3 Jane; B- ? D- ?

2.4 Martha; B- ? D- ?

2.5 Alice; B-1845. D- ?

2.6 John II; B- ? D- ? M- ? He was lame and a doctor. No issue.

2.7 Caroline; B-April 1950. D- ? M- Porter (?)

The data I have about John and his family is very meager; if anyone can send me further information, I shall appreciate it.

5. Benjamin; Twin; B-Nov 6-1804. D-Dec 5-1875. M-Margaret ?

He is buried at Cockfield, Co. Durham, England. I have an old photo of him and his wife Margaret, with their names on the back. I think it must have been taken from an old photo made in England. The one I have was taken by my uncle Edwin Wetherell, at McConnelsville, Ohio and is dated 1870. I have no account of them coming to America even for a visit. I saw what I thought to be the original photo in England.

WETHERELL. C 4-page 63

Sent by Ward E. Wetherell, West Newton, Mass. He is a descendant of William Wetherell of Norton and Taunton. He quotes briefly from "History of Norton, Massachusetts" written about 1859 by George Faber Clark. The story of this town is a story of the Wetherell family in the Southeastern part of the state.

The first settlement is believed to have been made by William Wetherell in 1669 on the shores of Winneconnet Pond, which marks the boundary between Norton and Taunton. A stone bears the name and date. Records in Taunton show that William recorded several parcels of property on April 29-1669.

It is supposed that William came over from Taunton, Somersetshire, England. UPDATE: William came over at age 10 in 1634 from Maidstone, England with his father John who was master of the Hercules. John was a founder of Watertown, Mass. He was a cabin boy in a ship the “Mary and John” of which William Dunn was master. When Dunn returned to England he left William Wetherell in charge of his proprietary in Taunton with the understanding that if he did not return to claim it, the rights should escheat to William Wetherell.

William's name is on the militia rolls of Taunton, 1643.

Reverend William Wetherell of Duxbury, Mass. in Plymouth Colony, arrived in 1634. (See List No. B 1; probably the same William). John Wetherell was his brother, and an early settler in Cambridge, Mass. and afterwards became one of the proprietors of Watertown.

The name is spelled in various ways. William of Norton wrote it "Wetherell" in 1690, the year before he died. It is also spelled Wetheral, Witherell, Witherel, Witherly, and Wetherly.

There is a fort in Naraganset Bay known as "Fort Wetherill". And during the Spanish war there was a "Camp Wetherell" in the Carolinas.

[Marginal note: FORT WETHERILL IS NAMED FOR Captain Alexander Macomb Wetherill who is related to the Philadelphia, PA Wetherills.

George Wetherall Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa. The name Wetherall is given as a middle name through four generations of sons. I have not listed all the members of the family; only those bearing the name Wetherall.

Waddington Heath, near Lincoln, England was the property of Elizabeth Newcombe, who married Thomas Smith; B-1730. Their son Thomas Smith;B-1766, at Waddington Heath, Married Ann Wetherell, as it is given in the records.

D 1-1. Ann Wetherell; B-1764, at Grantham, Lincolnshire. D-1837. Buried in Gravel Pitt Chapel Yard, Hemerton, near London. Burial spelling of the name was changed to Wetherall in the succeeding generations. She married Thomas Smith; B-1766. D-Sept 7-1825. Buried in Oxford Churchyard near Philadelphia, Pa.

Thomas and Ann sold the Weddington Heath Estate and emigrated to America in 1822. Later the family, except two sons, Thomas and George Wetherall Smith, returned to England. These two sons started a brewery in New York City. Later they moved to Pittsburgh, Pa. They first bought a tract of land near Utica, N.Y.

George Wetherall Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa. The name Wetherall is given as a middle name through four generations of sons. I have not listed all the members of the family; only those bearing the name Wetherall.

Waddington Heath, near Lincoln, England was the property of Elizabeth Newcombe, who married Thomas Smith; B-1750. Their son Thomas Smith;B-1766, at Waddington Heath, Married Ann Wetherall, as it is given in the records.

D 1-1. Ann Wetherell; B- 1764, at Granthum, Lincolnshire. D- 1837. Buried in Gravel Pitt Chapel Yard, Hemerton, near London. The spelling of the name was changed to Wetherall in the succeeding generations. She married Thomas Smith; B-1766. D-Sept 7-1825. Buried in Oxford Churchyard near Philadelphia, Pa.

Thomas and Ann sold the Waddington Heath Estate and emigrated to America in 1822. Later the family, except two sons, Thomas and George Wetherall Smith, returned to England. These two sons started a brewery in New York City. Later they moved to Pittsburgh, Pa. They first bought a tract of land near Utica, N.Y.

WETHERALL. F 3-

Sent by C.D.Wetherall, of Detroit, Michigan.

This family originated in the Village of Wetheral, England. Early members of the family moved to Ireland. It is stated that a grant of land was given by William III, to an early member for military service after the Battle of Boyne, 1690. In fact the whole family has many members who are credited with military services in several parts of the world.

Mr. Wetherall has loaned me a book about his family,which is very interesting, entitled "Tree and Services of the Wetherall Family" by Frederick Bradford MaCrea, written in 1912. This book is the result of extensive research through many old records in Ireland and England. The two "Trees" included in the book, I have endeavored to reduce to my system of numbering.

F3-1. _____Wetherall; B- ? D- ? M- ?
1.1 William; (the elder) B- ? D-1784. M- ? Customs House, Dublin.
1.11 John; B- ? D-? M- ?

I have briefed the letters from Mrs Jay W.Minnich, Greenville, Ohio, hoping that some one can furnish further information and get the Wetherell connection figured out.

Mrs Minnich sends no list but states that her grandfather was Dr. Alexander Wm. Reese, born in Clark Co. Indiana, but lived in later years in Missouri. He said that his grandfather John Reese (Pioneer Indiana Baptist Preacher) married Jane (or Elizabeth) Wetherall in Kentucky in 1784 and said she was a widow. Other descendants say the widow's name was Jane Veach (or Veach)

In a family Bible belonging to Mrs Minnich's grandfather, the name entered about 1835 appears in two places as "Wetherell"

She thinks the grandmother's name was Jane and that her daughter Elizabeth married John Kennedy Graham. She died in 1822.

Mrs Minnich will appreciate any clues that you may be able to send in.

NEW JERSEY. 95- N 1-

Walter Wetherall of Westwood, New Jersey, writes that; "My branch comes from Northern Ireland, including me. My father told me that our family had been traced back through church records to a Captain Richard Wetherall who was in Cromwell's army when the latter subdued Ireland.

He remained there on a grant of land given him by Cromwell for services rendered."

NOTE; There are two periods of the conquest of Ireland mentioned in our records, with Wetheralls involved;

I- By Cromwell, 1649-1652. (Cromwell died 1658)

II- The reconquest begun by William III when he defeated James at the Battle of the river Boyne, July 1-1690. See List # F 3-.

Mr Wetherell has promised more data about his family which I am sure will be interesting. His wife and daughter are now making a trip through Ireland and England and will look over some of the church registers while over there. These I hope to include in a supplement to be issued later.
